The vital thing to the people—the only fact of real significance-was that men like Fernstrom, who were elected to act as agents for the people in their municipal business, stood ready to take a salary from the city and still give the company everything it asked. When a citizen sees a prospect of betrayal by his own agent, it is of little concern to him whether the traitor is Mormon, Jew should be told that the honor of the flag is at stake, not only when an outside foe is threatening, but when dishonesty, misgovernment and oppression exist at home, and that they can add to the glory of the Stars and Stripes by consecrating themselves to the cause of good citizenship. whether the traitor is Mormon, Jew
